Believe it or not, it takes a special kind of song to work in a roaming set, particularly for high energy sets. It needs to strike a fine balance between being extremely well-known and having a good sing-along pedigree. Think of songs where EVERYONE knows the chorus and would sing it all with us. This is why for roaming sets we keep our offerings quite limited.

This catalogue is a sample of songs we know to consistently work well. We generally don't work to a set list; it's all about the vibe we're getting from the crowd, so trust us; this form is all about understanding you and your guests, when the time is right, we love to bust out requests on the fly and keep the crowd boiling over, shouting for more!

This form below is all about understanding you and your guests, not locking in a final list of songs.
